IN DANGER NATIONS IN DEADLOCK OF THEIR LIFE

BERKELEY, March 12.—With a crash that startled the passengers on the north bound Berkeley local train early this morning, one of the immense driving wheels of the engine snapped and the engineer, William Edgar, was given the fight of his life, incidentally impeding traffic for an hour and delaying hundreds of passengers who were trying to make their way from the city to Berkeley.

That more serious damage was not done and lives lost or passengers injured, is regarded by railroaders as something like a short of a miracle.

Going at full speed, the ponderous engine could have left the track, or a driving wheel would have collapsed, but in this instance nothing of that sort occurred. The engine was not seriously damaged and the passengers escaped with nothing worse than a series of bumps.

Examination showed that the axle supporting the middle driving wheels were defective. This was responsible for the breakdown.

A second engine was sent for and in an hour all traces of an accident had been removed.

DISGRACED, HE RESIGNS

ST. PETERSBURG, March 12.—Father Gapon was arrested on the eve of the inquiry demanded by him into the scandal involved in the charge that his labor organization was subsidized by the government.

M. Timrazoff, Minister of Commerce, in an interview, exonerates Father Gapon from all blame, declaring he is an idealist and a man of force, and acquitting him of receiving any of the money given by the government to Matuzhinski, Gapon's former assistant.

Nevertheless, his enemies intimate that Gapon arranged the arrest be-

MISS ANTHONY IS SLOWLY PASSING TO REWARD.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., March 12.—There has not been a marked change in the condition of Susan B. Anthony since yesterday. She is still in a comatose condition, the heart action is weak and death may be looked for at any moment.

Miss Anthony sank rapidly after 10 o'clock. Her breathing was irregular and at times barely discernible. Her physician said:

"There is absolutely no hope, and she probably will not live the day out."

This morning several nieces arrived at her bedside.

Last night in a delirium Miss Anthony spoke of the work in Oregon, where the battle for woman suffrage is now being waged. Shortly afterward she sank into a stupor.

ST. PETERSBURG March 12.—In practically all the first stage of the present election fusion in the village's refused to participate. Reports from St. Petersburg, Volkov and elsewhere indicate that the peasants are in a hurry to return to the district conventions which will be held tomorrow to be provincial elections at which representative to the national assembly will be chosen.

Delegates at the first district convention at Moscow, according to the peasant representatives while they did not sue claim him in their delegations strongly favored the selection of the peasants against the landowner class.

Dealing on the subject is evidently being conducted a portion of the work men refuse to participate and much larger body than can be told who belonging to the Social Democratic Party has adopted a resolution that the national assembly in Kiev is the election law for the rich against the poor or the landowners against the peasants and the employers against the workers.

THE PURPOSE

The purpose of the government is not to provoke real representatives of the people but persons who will obey the instructions of the government. It simply wants to use the national assembly to raise money. The Russian people are more in slavery than before. We used to participate in the elections and demand a constituent assembly on the basis of a sum total immuno for the thousands who are now being arrested and sent into exile.

M. Butler who recently resigned the post of Minister of Agriculture was registered on the list of emigrant demobilized.

how the corrections to be made in the valuations of the County Assessor if the city does not obtain a duplicate of the county roll for Oakland?

Under the charter the only legal assessment that can be made for the municipality is the one made by the County Assessor. The City Council sitting as a municipal board of equalization is authorized by law to correct after a hearing such inequalities as may be complained of or officially brought to the Council's attention. The Supervisors sitting as equalizers are empowered by law to correct errors in the assessment for State and county purposes.

Apparently the object of Councilman Thurston's resolution is to have the city pay for a series of estimates of value to be furnished by persons to be deputized by the City Assessor. Such estimates would not constitute a local assessment roll. They could have no validity as a basis of comparison for the City Board of Equalization can only raise or lower assessments made by the County Assessor after a hearing with respect to each piece of property assessed.

What then is the object of the Thurston resolution? Why does it state that the estimates of value it directs shall be obtained shall be used as a basis of comparison with a duplicate of the county roll which has not been demanded within the time required by law?

Mr. Thurston says he hopes to decrease the municipal tax rate. His resolution speaks only of correcting inequalities. If the Council goes to focus in this matter there is danger of the entire municipal assessment being invalidated. What would the city do then poor thing? But such a tax would leave property owners to pay what they pleased as city taxes which would doubtless be very convenient to certain large corporations.

But how about the plain people? The best known midget in the world Mrs. General Tom Thumb and her excellent little company which comprises the two smallest men in the world are at the Novelty Theater this week. They are to appear at all events, performing in their charming little playlet which has captivated everyone who has seen it in whatever city they have appeared. Those being a particular demand among the actors children to see this wonderful little woman the management of the Novelty has arranged for the matinees to begin a half hour later than usual or at 4:30 so that even one will have plenty of time to see these little people at the matinees which are given every day.

Children attending unaccompanied will be well taken care of so mothers need have no fear. It will be advisable for ladies and children to attend the matinees and avoid the rush at night. The evening performances will be given for the first five nights of the week and extra performances will be given on Saturday and Sunday at both the matinees and evenings. No admission fees to the contrary the price of admission will remain the same old popular ten cents.

SHOOTS HIS WIFE AND THEN HIMSELF IN PRESENCE OF HIS CHILDREN

Frank T. Homer, Made Mad by Jealousy, Mortally Wounds Woman and Then Sends a Bullet Into His Own Brain.

It is not thought this morning that Mrs. F. T. Homer, who yesterday tell a victim to his husband's jealous rage and was shot twice in the face by him, can long survive the man who, after venting his fury upon her, turned his pistol upon himself and ended his existence. She lies at the Receiving Hospital in a semi-conscious condition and is unable to say a word. Two powder-marked bullet wounds disfigure her left cheek, and it is believed that one of the bullets has entered the brain cavity from below, and that her moments are numbered.

The pistol was held close to her face and one crashed through her cheek bone and the second bullet an inch from it entered at a point between the first wound and her ear. She is able to open her eyes, but she apparently takes no notice of anything, for when Dr. R. T. Stratton asked her if she could hear him talking, she made no response although she opened her eyes. She seems to be in considerable pain, for she constantly moves her feet about.

After having threatened many times in the past year to kill her because of his mad jealousy, Frank T. Homer shot his wife, Mary, twice in the presence of the youngest two of their four children and then fired a bullet into his own brain early yesterday afternoon at the home, 151 Webster street, Homer died at 8 o'clock last night, and Mrs. Homer cannot live.

Previous attempts to end his wife's life had been frustrated by the presence of the older children, Frank, aged 18, and Mabel, aged 22. Yesterday, however, these two were absent, Mabel having gone for a buggy ride with three friends, and Frank being away from the house. Despite this fact, Mrs. Homer was not as much frightened as she might have been when she was told that her time had come, owing to the many previous threats, until she actually saw the revolver pointed at her.

Homer had taken the precaution, after kissing his children good-bye, to put them in another room, but they followed him back in time to witness the awful tragedy. Ruth, who is 13, pleading vainly with her father to spare her mother's life.

Homer had quarreled frequently with his wife until she finally left him, but later returned on his promise to stay away from the house. Yesterday he had been granted permission to eat there, because of his lack of funds.

After witnessing the shooting, little Ruth ran into the street and summoned neighbors, who telephoned for the police.

Officer Jorgenson was the first on the scene and he made Mrs. Homer as comfortable as was possible until the arrival of the patrol wagon.

Mrs. Homer and her husband were then hurried to the Receiving Hospital where Steward Harry Barchet labored vigorously until the arrival of Drs. A. S. Kelly, R. T. Stratton and T. A. Williams.

THEATRICAL MAN.

Homer was a well known theatrical man. October 1st last he was arrested on a charge of insanity preferred by his son Frank, aged 18 years, employed by Goldberg, Bowen & Co., as a clerk and driver. His arrest followed an attempt made by him to take his own life. He remained in the insane ward at the Receiving Hospital two days and was released, as he exhibited no signs of insanity while there. His dementia was due to supposed family troubles and an insane jealousy of his wife.

Yesterday at noon Homer sat down to dinner with his wife and their two youngest children and after finishing his meal began wrangling with his wife.

"Ruth," said Mrs. Homer, turning to the oldest of the pair, "take your sister upstairs and get ready to go out for a walk with mamma. I am sick of this everlasting abuse and you must not mind what papa is saying."

"Sick of it, are you?" shouted Homer, now thoroughly aroused. "Well, so am I tired of it. I tell you, I mean to end it all today. Do you hear? I will end it all for both of us before we leave this house."

REASSES LITTLE SISTER.

Ruth led her youngest sister Deda, aged 8, out of the room up the stairway and into a room on the second floor fronting on the street. Both the girls were crying and little Deda was badly frightened, for they could still hear the harsh voice of Homer as he continued to abuse their mother.

Two or three minutes later Ruth heard her father's heavy step on the stairs. As he reached the landing he first closed the door leading into the back room. Then, turning into the front room and closing the door behind him, he went up to Ruth and kissed her twice and as he kissed her he muttered these words:

"Papa, papa," screamed Ruth, "please don't kill mamma. Papa, don't, don't."

Muttering an oath and without the slightest hesitation Homer pressed the trigger and sent a bullet crashing into his wife's head. Holding his victim to the floor, Homer again pressed the muzzle of his weapon against her temple and fired the second shot. Then he realized that he had completed his awful task, he released his grip and the dying woman, with the blood gushing from the two bullet holes in the temple, and the side of her face burned and blackened by the powder, staggered and fell face downward across the bed.

Then Homer turned and faced his daughter.

"Go back, Ruth, go back," he muttered. "This is no place for you."

But Ruth never moved from her place in the doorway, staring at the bloodstained figure of her mother lying on the bed. For an instant Homer stood in the corner and looked at her. Then he walked to the foot of the bed and crouching against the bedpost, he put the revolver to his own head and fired. The bullet went home and the man sank in a senseless heap on the floor.

Representatives of the Sherman Concentrated Fruit Company have reported the loss of a large amount of sugar from a box car at Adams wharf.

The door of the car was broken open with a "jimmy." The work is supposed to be that of bay pirates.

And then the man handed a miniature photograph of himself framed in a cheap oval frame of tarnished brass.

KISSES BABY GOOD-BYE.

Meanwhile little Deda had gone into the middle room and was looking out of the window when her father came in and lifting her up in his arms kissed her again and again. Finally he placed her into the front room, and placing her on the bed turned to Ruth who was still brushing her hair, and said:

"Now, Ruth, you and Deda be good little girls and stay right here in this room."

Then he went out, closing the door behind him. Ruth, now thoroughly alarmed, heard him as he closed the door of the room opposite hers. Remembering the threats he had made at the dinner table and fearing for the safety of her mother, the girl ran out into the narrow hall and opened the door of the opposite room, but she found it empty. Then she heard her mother scream and the scream came from the room beyond, the door of which was closed. Fearlessly Ruth ran to the door and opened it.

It was then that Ruth was roused to action. Brushing past little Deda, who, attracted by the noise, had come from the front room and joined her sister, Ruth ran down the stairs and into the street. There she met Mr. and Mrs. Klingberg, who live next door.

Asks FOR THE DOCTORS.

"Get the doctor, quick," screamed Ruth. "Papa has shot mamma and himself and they are both dying."

Ruth ran up the stairs, searching for the nearest doctor, and her wife ran back into the house and telephoned to the police. In ten minutes the police were on the scene and it was brave little Ruth who guided them up the stairs and into the women's ward.

Then the patrol returned to the house and brought Ruth's father. After his wound had been dressed he was placed on a cot in the room adjoining that of his wife.

The doctors say Mrs. Homer may live through the night.

RUTH TELLS OF TRAGEDY.

Ruth Homer told her story to Detective George Stratton in the little parlor of her desolate home. With her sister Deda seated by her side she told her story in this way:

"You see when papa began to say mean things to mamma at dinner," she began, "I wasn't frightened, for he has been saying mean things to her for months. I have heard him tell mamma lots before that he means to kill her. He was smoking a cigar that night and the ash dropped on the cigar and into mamma's eyes and made her scream. My big sister and I heard her and ran into the room and got papa to stop."

"He kept getting worse and worse until last Monday, when mamma had to leave. But the next day papa promised to let me leave the home and take my children and go away himself. So mamma came back and papa went away. But next day he came back and mamma said he was here again and he was in the lounge until he got money enough to live up town."

BROTHER SUPPORTS FAMILY.

"My brother Frank is 16 years old and is a clerk at Goldberg, Bowen & Co.'s grocery store and it's his wages that keeps the house going, for papa has been out of work for more than three months and never brought home more than a dollar or two at a time. Then there is my big sister Mabel. She is 22 and she has no engagement now and is living home with us."

"Well, this morning my brother went out and sister Mabel went out with a party of friends for a buggy drive. So mamma and papa and Deda had the house to themselves. Papa had been sitting in front with mamma long before dinner and at last she got tired of talking to him and that made him all the madder. Then he told her to leave him alone and she did. She sat there at the dinner table and then she told me to take Deda upstairs and for us to get ready to go to the station with I took Deda upstairs. Pretty soon mamma came up and after saying that she was tired of papa scolding her, told me to hurry and get ready, while she changed her dress, save my skirt through the middle room and into the back room and began washing her face.

RUNES TO MOTHER'S AID.

"Then papa came upstairs and after mamma and Deda had gone, he came up and said to me, 'Get ready to go to the station with me.' I was still trembling when I took Deda upstairs. Pretty soon mamma came up and after saying that she was tired of papa scolding her, told me to hurry and get ready, while she changed her dress, save my skirt through the middle room and into the back room and began washing her face.

"Then he let go of her and she fell on the floor in her lace stockings. When I turned to run, Deda told me to go back to the front room, but I couldn't move. Papa then walked down to the foot of the bed and stooping over, put the pistol to his head and shot himself."

"After that I ran downstairs and into the street and told Mr. and Mrs. Kingberg what had happened. Then the police came and Deda and mamma and Ruth went to the hospital. That's all, but please tell me, will mamma die?"

DAUGHTER FAINTS.

Miss Mabel Homer returned home from her buggy drive about 6 o'clock this evening and when she was told of the tragedy, she fainted in a fit. This caused a sensation by disappearing from home, during which time it developed that she had been married several years ago.

Homer was originally a sign painter by trade, but of late years he devoted most of his time to the electrical business. He was a member of the Theatrical Mechanics Association and during that time had been connected with several of the smaller theatrical troupes traveling through the smaller towns on the coast. The three months ago he was advanced to the rank of company known as the Georgia Minstrels.

Homer was 49 years of age. Mrs. Homer was 40.

WOMAN'S PURSE TAKEN BY THIEF

The Free Market on lower Washington and Clay streets that was established for the convenience of farmers who wished to sell their products in the city at first hand, is becoming the stamping ground for purse-snatchers and pickpockets, according to the police. Several complaints have been made, but many of the victims, it is claimed, have not reported their losses. The last victim to make a complaint is Mrs. K. J. Stevens of 560 Tenth street, whose purse, containing $16, was snatched from her hand while she was inspecting the vegetables and poultry displayed by the vendors to the crowds that gather each Wednesday and Saturday. Mrs. Stevens was jostled by two young men and suddenly one of them grabbed the purse and darted off through the crowd. Mrs. Stevens tried to follow, but the way was blocked by the other young man, whom she now believes to be an accomplice of the one who stole the purse. Both young men, who are described as being about 20 years old and shabbily dressed, escaped during the excitement.

Mrs. Stevens has reported the theft to the police and Chief Wilson has detailed Detectives Kyte and Quigley on the case. With the exception of the Free Market trouble the city proper has been unusually free from thievery and the police are determined to break up the gang that seems to be operating there.

Representatives of the Sherman Concentrated Fruit Company have reported the loss of a large amount of sugar from a box car at Adams wharf. The door of the car was broken open with a "jimmy." The work is supposed to be that of bay pirates.

Stockmen Hold Meeting to Discuss Protection—Livermore Notes.

LIVERMORE ITEMS.

J. M. Barry has decided to move from Livermore, where for the past three years he has been an active figure in the local horse market. He moves to Klamath Falls, Ore., in which section he has lately invested heavily in land. He will take with him one of the local industrious and enterprising young men, W. P. Teeter, and the two will start a dairy and stock farm. Mr. Teeter will assume charge of the ranch and Mr. Barry will continue his present business of buying and selling horses.

The skating rink is growing to more and more of an attraction with the passing of time. Young and old, large and small are devoting their spare time to mastering the intricacies of the uncertain rollers.

The floor is filled every night with hard working skaters, and the galleries too are filled with those who come to look on and laugh at the ludicrous performances of the beginners.

Mrs. E. H. Durgin, who resides in Livermore, is spending a few weeks in Livermore visiting with her friends, Miss E. C. Smith and Mrs. Frank Fassett.

Mrs. J. M. Doty is spending a week in San Francisco visiting her daughter, Mrs. Arnold.

Peter Curtis, a prominent hay dealer in San Francisco and former sheriff of that county, spent the past week here, buying hay from the local dealers.

A Bistorius, who formerly conducted a furniture business here but who is now a resident of Oakland, was in town for a day during the latter part of the week.

Asa V. Mendenhall of Oakland spent Sunday visiting friends.

UNKNOWN MAN COMMITS SUICIDE

NILES. March 15.—A stranger who when he first appeared in town Saturday afternoon gave the name of James Holden, and said he was a laborer from the Western Pacific camp, a few miles from here, was found dead at 7:30 o'clock Saturday night in the yard in the rear of the Niles Hotel, having taken his own life by taking strichnine. A half-empty bottle of the poison was found beside the body.

The man had not been drinking and did not seem despondent to the many citizens of Niles who saw and talked with him. Search among the laborers at the Western Pacific camp reveals no trace of any one of that name or description.

He was a man of medium height, with the appearance of a sober, industrious laboring man. He had a large and heavy black moustache and was about 45 or 50 years of age. There were no papers or other means of identification found on his person.

"They say he gambles."

"Yes; but he does it in a perfectly honorable and gentlemanly way. He invariably loses."—Chicago Tribune.

Bowman's Drug Store

Recent investigations in San Francisco show that many colognes, bay rum and even tinctures intended for external use have for their body wood alcohol, a poison that is most irritating and even dangerous, on continued application, to delicate skins.

Such disclosures should make you particular to buy your drugs where the welfare of the customer is of more importance than a little extra profit—where purity and reliability are watchwords.

Better "Get it at Bowman's" and be sure it's pure—it's safer, and we're never undersold.

MRS. COLLINS NO. 1 IS READY TO FORGIVE

Thinks the Punishment Inflicted on the Attorney Is too Severe.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 12.—Mrs. Charlotte Newman Collins, the first wife of the convicted attorney, upon whose testimony he was found guilty of perjury, is already regretful for the part she played in the sensational trial. Without reserve she expresses in one breath her sorrow and in the next a sort of forlorn hope that he may yet escape a felon's stripes.

Like all women, Mrs. Collins is speculating on the probability that the child will soon release him back to her. She thinks that his denial of the little boy was made under pressure and that he is still the kind, considerate and generous man she knew years ago.

She is willing to forget the past if he can gain his freedom, but she still retains her enmity for Miss Clarice McCurdy Collins, the second wife of the attorney. Mrs. Collins was seen this morning at her modest little home on Larkin street. When asked what she thought of the judgment pronounced on her husband, she said, with much feeling:

JUDGMENT TOO SEVERE.

"I think it was unjust of Judge Burton to give Mr. Collins such a long sentence. I think half that much would have been enough. I am all broken

TRYING TO GET DAMAGES

The preliminaries to the suit of Dr. J. M. Shannon against the Grayson-Owen Company for $16,000 damages for injuries received by being run down by a runaway team of the corporation were begun this morning by a stipulation being agreed upon by Attorney Stanley Moore for Dr. Shannon and Attorney George de Golla for the defense that it would be admitted that Dr. Shannon had received the injuries alleged in the complaint, and that he was denied any serious injury.

The point now at issue is the extent of those injuries. It is denied for the Grayson-Owen Company that Dr. Shannon received any permanent injury, and it is acknowledged that his nose was broken as well as one of his ribs, and also that his hip was fractured, it is denied that any serious injury has resulted from these injuries.

Attorney Stanley Moore stated that he would prove that the fracture of the hip was even more serious than he had at first thought, evidently doctor himself had now had pain in the region of the fracture, long after the fracture itself had healed showing that there was a displacement or rupture of muscles and tendons, rendering him greatly and interfered with his standing in any one position any length of time.

This point, however, is to be fought out in the trial of the case. Engaged for the defense is Attorney George de Golla, who is associated with Attorney Al. B. Miller.

AFTER THE ACCUSED

Deputy Marshals Have Desperate Battle With Indians.

VINITA, March 12.—Marshal Darragh has wired the Department of Justice at Washington asking authority to swear in 100 additional deputies and to offer $100 reward for five of the Indian outlaws, dead or alive. He has gone to Kansas to assist in the pursuit of the Indians.

The outlaws are alleged to be headed by Charley, John and Tom Wickliffe, sons of the former Justice of the Cherokee Supreme Court. The three Indians boys are believed to be concerned in a stage robbery at an Indian dance.

Last March members of the gang killed Deputy Vier and escaped after a battle with a posse and their camp was destroyed.

More bloodshed is feared. It is said that many of the younger full blood Indians in the Spannaw hills are joining the Wickliffes and a clash seems inevitable when the reinforcements of deputies meet with them.

Two Indians are among the posses.

And there are two brothers of Tuttle, the dead deputy.

The six dead deputy marshals were buried last night while hunting the Wickliffe country. Five of Deputy Vier's horses of the deputies were shot from under them and three of the deputies were killed outright. The other three sought shelter behind some rocks. One of them, Watson, was shot in the foot, to which he fled for reinforcements. When he left, the others were holding the Indians at bay.

AT THE MACDONOUGH.

Florence Roberts will interpret the leading role in her new production, "The Strength of the Weak," at the Macdonough Theater Thursday, March 10, and is described as a new modern play in four acts by Alice M. Smith.

The story concerns the relations of a young orphan and her guardian, who has provided her with education. The action belongs during graduation day at a woman's college. The girl has written a book published anonymously, which is supposed to reflect certain phases of her life, showing her relations with an unscrupulous guardian. The exposé of the author begins the complications which evolve into the serious situation of the betrothal between the young orphan and the guardian's son. The characters are all natural and lead to a perfectly natural denouement.

UNION OFFICIAL REPLIES TO JOHN P. IRISH

Paul S. Gillette Makes Answer,
Through The Tribune, to Some Allegations.

Oakland, Cal, March 11, 1906.

EDITOR TRIBUNE:—The answer of John P. Irish to my official reply of the 5th instant, appeared in THE TRIBUNE of the 8th instant. He says that my "statement" was sent to officials in the East and comes back stamped with "approval." He then goes on to divide my argument into three points, which he says is all the defense I have offered. They are as follows:

"First, it declares limitation of apprenticeship is right because American boys 'abhorring the drudgery, have prepared themselves for a profession and have entered other walks of life which do not demand of them to spend so many hours of their time at a vocation which gives so little opportunity for advancement."

"Second, Mr. Gillette says that the unions favor the establishment of industrial schools for the special training of boys and girls to better qualify them to earn their living along industrial lines. That is to say, to train them in crafts which the unions in the first reason say they 'abhor.'

"Third, Mr. Gillette says that it is proper to deprive boys of the chance to work because 'the time when places of low resort hold out the greatest temptation is after working hours and not during them; and, again that these things must be paid for. If a boy does not work he cannot dip in the lowest forms of debauchery, unless his parents are able to furnish him the means.'

THREE "REASONS."

Mr. Irish goes on to say that the three "reasons" quoted above, include all the "defense" labor unions have for the limitation of apprenticeship, or as he terms it, "despising American boys of the right of apprenticeship." Referring back to the first point he interprets me as arguing that boys generally don't want to learn a trade, "they should be taught what they don't want to learn in the public schools; if they learn them they will have money to spend on vices."

He then informs us that I have "left out the moral and economic considerations." He seems to think I would and create "more than enough" tradesmen. Neither Mr. Irish nor any other person ever told me that it was right to deprive boys of the "chance" to work.

That is the country over, there never was a time when corporations were reaping such large profits as now. We do not grade them this. Great credit is due to the transportation companies. Simon's credit is also due to other large aggregations of capital. But in the meantime we, the American workingmen and women, insist on our rightful share of the great wealth.

I have called attention to the fact that places of low resort hold out the greatest temptation at night to show him that he has exaggerated the situation, and the influence of such men on the workingmen as well as the unemployed, providing them all have money; and further, that the lack of money acts as a restriction on vice among boys. Many a man's downward path can be traced to his association with such men.

AS A GOOD SIGN.

"We should look upon this as a good sign that American boys have the sense to take the best thing they can find for a livelihood. If they cannot enter a profession or other business more promising than a craft they will take a trade; if a trade is not open to them they will take the next best thing. I submit that the great point to consider in this instance is who shall fill the situations that from time to time are open?" Our present commercial development offers a limited number of occupations. Mr. Irish says there are 375,000 open annually in the United States, we cannot find a considerably larger number of apprentices to work unless the heads of families are displaced, the man who is capable of supporting dependents would have to yield to an overplus of boys if they were permitted, because the boys are cheaper. They could be taught one thing and kept at it; when those boys in turn become men they too would suffer from the flooding of the trades with an oversupply. The drop of wages which must inevitably follow such folly would be the signal for a reduction in

LAKESIDE RINK IS POPULAR

NEW SKATING RESORT COMES INTO INSTANT FAVOR WITH PUBLIC.

The Lakeside Skating Rink opened its doors to the public last Saturday night, and, after a while, closed them again.

The closing was occasioned by the fact that the accommodations of the place, great as they were, had been taxed to the utmost, and the management decided that it could admit no more people without interfering with the comfort and destroying the pleasure.

Miss Lavallee was called before the directors of the Hayward school a day or two later and asked to explain her conduct. Supported by the evidence of the teacher who witnessed the punishment of the boy, Miss Lavallee cleared herself so completely that the board returned a decision entirely exonerating her and practically acquitting the lad of lying. In the present case his father and teacher Peter told of a conversation he overheard between his father and mother in which the former told her that under no circumstances was any teacher to whip him. Acting under this instruction, and supported by his family, in the matter, young Mosquito took liberties with school mandates. When Miss Lavallee was about to whip him Peter warned her that if she did it would be the last time. When the story of the alleged ill-treatment became town gossip, public sentiment stood strongly in favor of the teacher. Her exoneration by the board was expected by every one conversant with her side of the story, with the sole exception of the father and son.

TEACHER TRIED FOR WHIPPING PUPIL

HAYWARD, March 12.—Miss Elsie Lavallee, a grammar school teacher of the Hayward School, has recently been exonerated by the Board of School Trustees of the charge of beating ten-year-old Peter Mosquito until his body was a mass of bruises. On February 8th young Mosquito was taken to task for a breach of discipline and chastised. That the lad might make no exaggerated charges to his parents, Miss Lavallee inflicted the punishment in the presence of another teacher.

At the next meeting of the school board Frank Mosquito, the boy's father, preferred charges against the teacher, alleging that in punishing his son, Miss Lavallee overstepped the rules of the school by whipping him about the body, when there was a rule prohibiting corporal punishment except on the hands.

TRAINS COLLIDE IN FIERCE SNOWSTORM

LINCOLN, Neb., March 12.—A fierce snowstorm, which is raging in the vicinity of Akron, Colo., where Burlington trains numbers 11 and 14 collided last night, interfered with the work of the wrecking crew and prolonged the rescue impossible. Mean-while the main line tracks of the Burlington are blocked with little prospect for early clearance. The trains have been run out from Denver and McCook to care for the passengers, none of them was injured.

NEEDLESS ALARM.

Here's a poor man coughing away his lungs—at least so his relatives think. It's cough, cough; hock, hock; hock; all day and sometimes all night.

"Must be consumption," think the alarmed ones.

And of course, there is always a possibility that they may be right.

But in most cases, they're wrong; because consumption is much more common than Consumption.

And Dyspepsia causes chronic Cough, just like Consumption.

The dyspeptic cough, it is well to remember, can be quickly cured by Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

No need to be alarmed about it unless you make up your mind to neglect it.

Then, indeed, you must look out for danger; for the Dyspeptic Cough often grows into a Consumptive Cough if neglected by the constant lung irritation which it causes.

The best way is to waste no time, but begin at once the use of these few little tablets, the timely use of which has saved many a sick person from ending in a consumptive's grave.

Remember, however, if you please, that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will positively NOT cure Consumption, but prevent it.

Of course, they can always be depended on to cure all the other symptoms of indigestion.

They are a universal cure, for one universal disease.

They are nothing else; but what they do they do thoroughly and well.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are the result of the most thorough investigation into the inside causes and the cure of Indigestion, that has ever been attempted.

They have solved a problem, the answer to which a hundred thousand physicians in America are today wrangling for.

A more inspiring spectacle could not have been imagined than the interior of the rink when the two military bands started in to play a program of musical selections appropriate to the skating movement and inspiring alike to spectators and to those on wheels.

The scene was instinct with gaiety and life, and it was difficult to determine who enjoyed it the more, the people on the floor or those who went gliding by on rollers swaying responsive to the music which seemed to touch their souls.

The enjoyment of everybody was complete, more especially when Charles L. Franks and his little daughter, Lilian, gave an exhibition of fancy work on the rollers. Franks and his daughter, who is only seven years of age, had been heralded as the finest skaters in the world, and no doubt was left in the minds of the spectators who saw them do their work that they deserved the commendation. Every movement was grace itself, and the evolutions they went through caused every-

SAY PRICE IS NOT HIGH

FIGURES GIVEN BY CONTRA COSTA CITIZENS FOR STATE FARM.

WALNUT CREEK, March 12.—That the sentiment of Contra Costa county is unanimous against any graft or scheme for private benefit in the sale of land for a State experimental farm was clearly manifested last Saturday when a large and enthusiastic meeting took place in Walnut Creek. The entire county was represented.

Among those prominently identified with the movement to secure the coveted honor for this locality is Eugene B. Anderson, a fruit grower who for many years was president of the Board of Education. Regarding the purchase price of the land Prof. Anderson said:

"We offer 340 acres, most of which is alluvial bottom land, and a bonus of $25,000 to be given for the location of the State farm at a price of $82,500, which is about $242 per acre."

The riparian water rights are valued at $31,500. Including the $25,000 bonus it leaves a total to the State of about $170 per acre. This includes riparian rights, dwellings, barns and all improvements. These figures can be verified by the State commissioners or their secretary, Mr. Henderson.

PRICE NOT HIGH.

"The price is much below that asked for similar adjoining land; in fact the best alluvial soil bordering on the proposed farm site cannot be had for less than $250 per acre, and that without either water rights or improvements."

Proof of this can be made by applying to the landholders or themselves, Jacob Spotts, Walter Clark and Mr. McPherson, who own property to his father's name in the school district.

"Well, this ship is going to China, and I guess you will go with her," said the man.

MADE HOMESICK.

The next morning one of the sailors came down and led Kneal out. "Come," said he, "the captain wants to see you."

When Kneal got on deck the skipper saw made him homesick. The Golden Gate had disappeared and the front of the ship was nothing but a great stretch of water. The sun was just coming up over the Berkeley hills, and Fort Point looked like a little red block in the distance.

"Say, you had better be careful what you say to the captain this morning," said the sailor. "He's mad because one of the men got away from the ship last night. That is his cabin over there."

Kneal walked down the stairs to the cabin and, sitting behind the desk, was a heavily built man. His muscles were like those of a giant and stuck out all over his body. He was smooth shaven and his hair was black tinged with gray.

"Well," said he, "I suppose you are the cabin boy?"

"Yes, but I shipped for San Diego, and not for China," said Kneal.

"But we are on our way to China, and you are going to be our cabin boy. Now go and get me a cup of coffee and some toast, then you can eat your breakfast in the galley, and mind—always call me sir."

Kneal went on deck and asked the sailor that showed him the cabin where the galley was. The sailor showed him and said that he would show him anything he wanted to know.

Kneal walked into the galley and asked the cook for something to eat. The cook gave him some salt pork and hardtack. When he had finished he still felt hungry, but did not dare to ask for any more. He carried the captain's breakfast to him, and then wandered upon deck.

ON CHINESE SOLE.

Nothing much happened during the voyage, as his duties were about the same every day. On the 18th of April the ship arrived in the harbor of Fuchow. That afternoon the captain and mates went ashore. As they went over the side, Kneal said to himself, "If I am going to escape now is the time." He went to the stern of the ship and said to the companion ladder so he could get on shore. When he got on board he paid the boatman his fare and then for the first time in his life set foot on Chinese soil.

Walking down the main street he came to a candy store and walking in sat down and called for something cool to drink. When he got this he began to think, "Now, if I stay in this city the captain will send the American consul after me; but if I go into the country and stay there until the ship sells then I can come down to Fuchow and ship for San Diego."

No sooner said than done. He walked out of the store, after paying his money, and when he had walked about two blocks he came to a door of a large building which had painted on it in large letters "American Consulate."

Looking in the window he saw the captain talking earnestly with a man. "He is talking about me," thought Kneal. "I guess I had better get out of this."

Turning down a side street he hurried on for about three hours, when he found himself in the country, about six miles out of the city. Seeing a barn, or rather a shed, he made for it as it was beginning to rain, and he had not sooner got into it than it began to pour down. Seeing a ladder leading into the door he climbed up and found the floor half covered with sacks of wheat and hay.

He was very cold, as he had gotten wet when he ran for the shed, and crawled into the hay and pulled some empty sacks over himself. He no sooner got comfortable than he heard voices underneath him, and looking through the door which was full of cracks, he saw a small party of Boxers who knew he had revolted.

IS DISCOVERED.

The Boxers evidently knew that there were wheat and hay in the loft, as Kneal could hear them talking and pointing up to the loft.

Pretty soon two of the Boxers slung their guns from their shoulders and started to climb the ladder. Kneal had hardly covered his face and arms when the two Boxers opened the door of the loft and entered.

"Take this sack of grain and I will take this empty sack to put other things to rest in," said one of the Boxers. He picked up the sack that covered Kneal's head and arms.

"Look," he cried to his companion, ricks, Miss Angelina Vluyas, Mr. and

STORY OF THE ADVENTURES OF A RUNAWAY BOY

Being the Tale of a Youth's Thrilling Experiences in the Orient.

BY EMMET N. BRITTON

"Have any of you fellows got any money you can lend me?" asked Howard Kneal.

"Why?" asked one of his chums.

"Well," continued Kneal, "I've stood this thing about as long as I can, and I'll not stand it any longer. My guardian won't take me away, so I am going to San Francisco and work my way to San Diego, where my aunt is, and stay with her; I don't see why she wasn't appointed my guardian instead of that brute that is my guardian now."

"I'll lend you a dollar," said his chum.

"All right; that will be just enough."

This talk was going on in a little boarding school in Kenwood, which is just sixteen miles from San Francisco. Howard Kneal was a boy who, when his father and mother were alive, had anything he wanted.

Howard had both died about a year apart, and he had a guardian elected who believed in keeping boys hard at work.

"I'll go right after school, and catch the 4:15 train to the city."

At 4:15 he was at the depot, and when the train came along he got into a car that was pretty well empty.

Having paid his fare, he looked out the window until he arrived at Oakland pier, where he took the boat for the city, arriving there at 5:30.

He began walking along the wharves and, seeing a rowboat making for a good-sized vessel, asked: "Is your vessel going to San Diego?"

"Yes," answered the man in the boat. "Do you want to work your way there as cabin boy?"

"Yes," said Kneal. "I'll go."

The boat came back and they got Kneal, and then rowed to the ship.

"Follow me," said the skipper, who had spoken to Kneal from the boat. He followed the man down into the hold of the vessel and then the man showed him a bunk in a kind of cage around the mast. When Kneal stepped in, he shut the door and locked it.

"Now," said the man. "You will have to work your way to China."

"What?" cried Kneal. "I thought I had shipped for San Diego."

"Well, this ship is going to China, and I guess you will go with her," said the man.

"I guess you will be careful what you say to the captain this morning," said the sailor.

"He's mad because one of the men got away from the ship last night. That is his cabin over there."

When he had finished he still felt hungry, but did not dare to ask for any more. He carried the captain's breakfast to him, and then wandered upon deck.

After a short walk Kneal and his aunt went to the place where she was staying.

She got him some new clothes. The next day Kneal and his aunt were on their way for San Francisco. They stayed there two days and went out to the school and fixed things up. His aunt was elected his guardian and when they got to San Diego his aunt had a private tutor for him, as he could not get along in private schools.

W. E. DARGIE, President

Business Office and Publishing House, 413-417 Eighth St., Oakland.

The Argonaut's Creed.

The esteemed Argonaut takes up something like a page and a half of its valuable space to explain (for the enlightenment of THE TRIBUNE) its position with reference to American trade in the Orient, the Chinese boycott on American goods and Chinese immigration into the United States. Incidentally, it reviews the slavery question and the acquisition of the Philippines, but neglected to say anything about polygamy in Utah. We assume this to have been an oversight. Still we harbor no grudges. On the contrary, we are both edified and instructed. Likewise flattered. Like the farmer who shot at a hawk on the chicken house and killed a pig under the barn, the Argonaut scatters a good bit and brings down game at unexpected places. The following creed which it enunciates is explanatory of this fact:

"We believe that this is a white man's country."

"We believe that the importation of negroes from Africa by thrifty New England traders to sell them to their thrifless Southern neighbors was a crime."

"We believe that the placing of the negroes at servile labor by the thrifless Southern planters was a blunder."

"We believe the Civil War settled all questions concerned with States rights, nullification, and human slavery on this continent. It did not, apparently, settle the slavery question on our island territory in the Philippines, where it exists today."

"We believe that negroes should have no votes in a government of white men."

"We believe that Asiatics should have no place in a community of white men."

"We believe that beginning to import coolie labor into the United States was a blunder. If repeated, it would be a crime."

"We believe that this blunder was checked by the determined attitude of the American workingman."

"We believe that neither party deserves any credit for the Chinese Exclusion Act."

"We believe that it was wrung from a reluctant Congress."

"We believe that the employing classes in the eastern part of this country have always been opposed to the Exclusion Act."

"We do not believe in planting Asiatic colonies in American States."

"We do not believe in planting American colonies in Asiatic islands."

"We believe that the war of 1898 brought about conditions endangering our laws against coolie importation."

"We believe that such is the greed of the commercial classes in the East, that they will force our national legislators to nullify, if not to repeal, the acts protecting us from an Asiatic invasion."

"We greatly fear and almost believe that it is impossible to check this conspiracy against our American nationality and our Anglo-Saxon civilization."

"If this conspiracy is successful, and the flood of Asiatic immigration again begins, we believe it will result eventually in an uprising of the white laboring men."

"The importation of African slaves led to our Civil War of 1861-65—the most bloody and awful conflict of modern times."

"The importation of Asiatic coolies, if resumed, will lead to an industrial war, a war of classes, eventually to a civil war. Such a war or wars will mean the downfall of the republic."

The Argonaut persists in its opinion that the Southern white people are in favor of Chinese immigration. It is a stout belief in the face of the fact that every prominent newspaper and public man in the South has unequivocally gone on record against it.

We agree with our contemporary in regard to the Philippines and Chinese immigration, but we cannot appreciate the logic of its views with reference to Japanese competition in the markets of China. We have no more reason to find fault with the Japanese for competing with us in trade and manufactures than we have to find fault with the English, the Germans, the French and the Russians. Trade is a fair and free field—or should be—for all. If the Japanese are untruthful and dishonest in trade, as the Argonaut has frequently charged, we shall beat them, never fear. Their crooked cunning will inevitably cause their own downfall.

The New York Legislature appears to be preparing to sidetrack Hearst's demand for a recount of the votes cast at the recent election in Greater New York. Apparently technical legal objections are to be interposed to ward off the recount.

The numerous aspirants for the Congressional shoes of Hon. J. N. Gillett may probably give that gentleman a hint as to the source of the clamorous desire expressed in certain quarters for him to enter the Gubernatorial race. All the would-be candidates for Congress in the First District (they appear to be as thick as blackberries in June) are convinced that Gillett is an ideal man for Governor. Of course this conviction is sincere and conscientious.

Last Saturday THE TRIBUNE printed twenty solid columns of real estate advertisements. This is a convincing proof that the real estate market on this side of the bay is booming. The comprehensive review of realty sales and movements printed in the same issue proves that prices are advancing and sales brisk. The 1500 inches of advertising in these columns on Saturday is conclusive evidence that THE TRIBUNE more than ever deserves its claim to being Oakland's greatest newspaper.

The Threatened Ruin of Niagara.

The gross materialism of the age is responsible for the threatened ruin of Niagara Falls as a scenic wonder. This materialism measures the value of everything by the dollar mark. The first question its votaries ask is how much can you make out of it, what is there in it for me? They would turn Paradise into a beer garden and coin the golden harps of heaven into money. To them esthetic considerations are mawkish folly.

It is natural that such people should view Niagara Falls from one standpoint only. The great cataract only represents so much horsepower which can be utilized and turned to individual profit. In their eyes it is merely something to be exploited for personal gain. And this they have set out to do, and if Congress does not stop them Niagara Falls soon cease to exist.

Despite the outcry of the press and nature and art lovers, the Legislature of New York seems bent on giving the materialists their way, the money-mongers their chance. If Congress does not interfere one of the first natural wonders of the earth and one of the most notable attractions on this continent will be destroyed completely, sacrificed to the greed for profit. A priceless possession of the nation will be confiscated to the most sordid of private ends.

Should that be allowed to occur the spot known as Niagara Falls will become a ghastly reminder of the selfish greed of speculators and the lack of artistic taste and public spirit in the American people. It will be a hideous advertisement to the world that Yankee greed for money has no respect for either the beauties of nature or public right. It will be a monument to desecration and vandalism.

Will Congress permit the creation of such a monument?

The shifty Senators who conceived it to be a good joke to make the President's Republican friends train, in the rate regulation fight, under the President's Democratic enemy, may find that the joke is not on either the President or Tillman. It may prove to be serious business for the jesters themselves before they are through with it.

MAGISTRATES PRACTICING AS ATTORNEYS.

San Francisco, March 9, 1906.
Editor TRIBUNE: I wish you would inform us, through your paper, by what right Judge Tappan proclaims himself the attorney of Mr. Simpson. Sections 171-172, Code of Civil Procedure, prohibits a Justice of the Peace from practicing before a Justice of the Peace. Supposing Simpson should be arrested on a warrant and taken before a Justice of the Peace in Alameda county, how is Mr. Tappan to be his attorney? Besides, it is a bad precedent, to say the least, to have a Justice of the Peace champion the cause of any person charged with a crime; still worse when that Justice uses the columns of the press to villify the very one who needs the protection of the laws.

A SUBSCRIBER.

THE NEGRO IN OHIO.

They are noting down South that Springfield, O., where the anti-negro riots have been going on, lies in the district represented in Congress by ex-Speaker Keifer, who is pressing legislation cutting down the South's representation proportionately with negro disfranchisement. It would certainly appear to be a development calculated to dampen the spirit of the Keifer crusade; for it enables the South to retort that in General Keifer's district they may keep the polls open to the negro, but are not disposed to let him live to vote.—Springfield Republican.

THE NEW PSALM OF LIFE.

(Written for THE TRIBUNE)

Tell me not, in mournful numbers,
"Life is but an empty dream!"
He who skates not surely slumbers,
And a stupid man doth seem.

Life is real! Life is earnest!
And to skate should be our goal;
"Dust thou art, to dust returnest,"
Worries not the skater's soul.

What altho' we meet with sorrow,
Stumbling in our clumsy way;
Let us skate that each tomorrow
Find us smarter than today.

Time is short, and rinks are fleeting,
Skate then with a spirit brave;
Do not round the bush be beating,
There's no skating in the grave.

In the rink's small field of battle,
Teeming with its noisy life,
What tho' crowded like poor cattle,
Be a hero in the strife.

Trust no comrade, how'er pleasant,
Let him be, roll on ahead!
Skate, there's no time like the present,
Self within, and roof o'erhead

Prostrate victims oft remind us
Skating's not always sublime,
But departing, they're behind us
Sitting in the dust and grime.

Leave them there, one and another,
Wriggling on the floor in vain;
There's no need to help a brother
Stagger to his feet again.

Let us at the rink be doing,
Always there and never late;
Still achieving, still pursuing,
Learn to use the roller skate

9 DAYS' ROMANCE ENDS IN A SECRET DIVORCE

CHICAGO, March 12.—Mrs. Emma Wolff, four months' bride of a romantic elopement with Franklin L. Wolff, grandson and heir of millionaire Ludwig Wolff, of the Ludwig Wolff Manufacturing Company, obtained a secret divorce, in which sensational charges were made, it was learned yesterday.

Judge Walker granted the decree in chambers, after a fifteen-minute hearing, the wealthy youth making no defense. The papers were suppressed, and every effort was made to keep the proceedings secret.

Mrs. Wolff's maiden name is withheld from the petition, and all efforts are being made by the attorneys to keep her identity a secret.

She alleges in her bill that she is only twenty years of age, and that she married the young heir to millions in Valparaiso, Ind., after a romantic elopement.

I never have had a child. I have been married now for nearly eighteen years to one of the best and kindest men in the world, a man who loves me, pets me, and humors my every whim. He is ideal as a husband—but a man and a woman do not make a home. There can be no home until the children come. He feels it, I know, although he never has hinted his disappointment, but, sometimes as we sit together in our home, surrounded by every comfort, I can catch in his look the vague longing, a sort of mental echo of the pain and the grief that are in my own breast.

I want a baby—all of my own. The house is desolate—for me, because there is no little one, no child there, nothing to tie me there during the hours when my husband is at his office—so I join women's clubs and more women's clubs—and fill the days.

I have tried to tell myself that I am interested in the work. I have, at times, almost persuaded myself that I am interested; that I have the welfare of my sex at heart; that I rejoice in the uplifting and advancement of women, that I find pleasure in being on committees to inspect schools, to look after the poor, to provide linen for foundlings, and to watch hospitals. But I am not, I am not, and I never will be. I am interested only because I have nothing else to do. I would rather have one child of my own, to love, to care for, to worry over, to teach and train, to weep and rejoice over, than to do all the work of all the women's clubs in the world.

I have heard them read papers on woman's sphere. I even have read papers myself along that line. I have told of the great and glorious advancement of women—and, while I read, I knew that my words were false and that there is but one sphere for woman, and that is the wifehood that includes motherhood.

I have thought it all out. I do not believe that any honest, earnest, sincere woman—unless she has been unsexed by education, and had her womanhood and the instinct of motherhood stifled by woman's

IT DOES NOT TAKE ANY MOTHER FROM HER HOME DUTIES OR CARES TO SPEND TEN MINUTES IN GOING TO THE POLLING PLACES AND CASTING HER VOTE AND RETURNING TO THE BOSOM OF HER HOME; BUT IN THAT TEN MINUTES SHE WIELDS A POWER THAT IS DOING MORE TO PROTECT THAT HOME NOW, AND WILL CONTINUE TO DO MORE TO PROTECT IT IN THE FUTURE, AND TO PROTECT ALL OTHER HOMES THAN ANY POWER OR INFLUENCE IN THE STATE OF COLORADO. I KNOW THAT THE GREAT MAJORITY OF PEOPLE IN COLORADO FAVOR WOMAN SUFFRAGE, AFTER PRACTICAL EXPERIENCE FOR MORE THAN A DECADE. FIRST, BECAUSE IT IS JUST, FAIR AND DECENT,—TO WHICH THERE IS NO POSSIBLE ANSWER—AND SECOND, BECAUSE IN THE END ITS INFLUENCE HAS BEEN GOOD RATHER THAN EVIL IN OUR POLITICAL AFFAIRS; AND EVEN IF THE SECOND REASON DID NOT EXIST, THE FIRST REASON WOULD STILL BE SUFFICIENT TO ALL RIGHT-MINDED MEN WHO ARE FAIR AND JUST.—From statement of Judge Lindsley of Denver, Colo.

Judge Ben B. Lindsey of the Denver Juvenile Court has just published a statement in regard to the women's vote in Colorado. He says in part:

"Woman suffrage in Colorado, for over ten years has more than demonstrated its justice. No one would dare to propose its repeal; and, if left to the men of the State, any proposition to revoke the right bestowed upon women would be overwhelmingly defeated."

"Many good laws have been secured. Many good laws have been obtained in Colorado which would not have been secured but for the power and influence of women."

"If it were any reason to deny women the right to vote because they could not regenerate mankind as a result, it would have been years ago a reason for depriving men of the right to vote."

"At some of the elections in Denver frauds have been committed. Ninety-nine per cent of these frauds were committed by men, without any convenience or assistance, direct or indirect, from women; but because one per cent were committed by women, there are ignorant or careless minded people in other States who actually argue that this is a reason for denying women the right to vote. If it were a just reason for denying suffrage to women, it would be ten times greater reason for denying it to men."

"Perfection is not to be found in this world, among either men or women; and while I grant that more women approach this exceptional state than men, at the same time there are a few women, like a great many men, ready to prostitute the use of the ballot box for selfish or mercenary causes."

Mrs. Palmaanteer will be assisted by Mrs. F. A. Nusbaumer, Mrs. H. N. Rowell, Mrs. F. R. Osgood, Mrs. W. F. Thelan, Mrs. A. E. Nash, Mrs. J. B. Parsons, Mrs. A. von der Ropp, Mrs. Kate V. in Colorado by the election frauds in a few precincts, unless it would be to show why suffrage should be denied to men and restricted to women. The election frauds in Philadelphia, where women do not vote, were never used as a reason why suffrage should be denied to men. There is no more reason that the exceptional case of such frauds in Denver, even those with which woman may have been connected, should be an argument for denying the right to her ninety-nine sisters who have conducted themselves decently and properly.

As a matter of fact, the only blow for decency that counted, in the last of a series of bad elections in Denver, was delivered by women voters; and the very important good that came out of an otherwise questionable election was the result of woman suffrage. The evil results of that election were in spite of woman suffrage; not because of it, but because of male suffrage; for had there been no men who voted at the election, and if the matter had been left entirely to women, not a corruptionist would have been elected. As it was, the difference in the vote, namely, the large vote for a candidate of good character, and the correspondingly small vote or running behind the ticket in case of a candidate of questionable character, was due almost entirely to the influence of women in the election.

MADE BY WOMEN.

"I know whereof I speak, because, as said before, I spent almost the entire night in visiting polling places and examining the ballots for myself; and I was surprised to find that the great majority of scratches against bad candidates and in favor of good candidates were made by the women voters; and had they not been handicapped by a bad ballot law, devised by the machines for the purpose of encouraging straight tickets and preventing independence in voting by the confusion created as to the method, and consequent intimidation of the voter into voting the straight ticket, with 'yellow dogs' and all, I am sure that the

WOMEN GIVE BLOW.

"For instance, in the last election, only two officials on the ticket of the leading political party of Denver were defeated. One of these men had openly and notoriously protected grafters and ballot-box stuffers. He was defeated for a high and important office absolutely by the vote of the women, as was also another man, whose moral, as well as political record was very bad, and known to be bad. I personally went from polling place to polling

MORAL CHARACTER.

"Many a time I have heard the 'boss' in the political caucus object to the nomination of some candidate because of his bad moral character, with the mere explanation that, if the women found him out, it might hurt the whole ticket. While many bad men have been nominated and elected in spite of woman suffrage, they have not been nominated and elected because of woman suffrage, but, in ninety-nine cases out of a hundred, because the men had a right to vote. In other words, if the situation were reversed, and only the women had a vote, I am sure it would result in a class of men in public office whose character for morality, honesty and courage would be of a much higher order.

"With the exception of a few downtown precincts, where frauds were arranged and carried out entirely by men, with a very occasional and exceptional use of women, the elections in Denver have been more decently and honestly conducted than they were before women had the right to vote. People have no right to judge woman suffrage

NEW YORK, March 12.—As a result of a protracted fit of weeping brought on by the announcement of his wife's approaching death, Egbert Terry, a boarding house keeper at East Moriches, N. Y., became totally blind today.

Mrs. Terry, who was suffering from a dangerous malady, visited

East Hampton a short time ago, hoping that the change of air might restore her to health. Since then her husband eagerly awaited news of her condition. At last came the announcement of a sudden change for the worse. Terry was seized with a violent fit of weeping. The sympathy of his friends only tended to augment his grief.

When from sheer exhaustion scratched vote by the women electors would have been much larger than it was; so that the difficulty here was not with the women, but with the scheming, designing men in politics, who work the election laws for partisan and selfish purposes, instead of for patriotic and unselfish purposes.

"It does not take any mother from her home duties or cares, to spend ten minutes in going to the polling places and casting her vote, and returning to the bosom of her home; but, in that ten minutes, she yields a power that is doing more to protect that home now, and will continue to do more to protect it in the future, and to protect all other homes, than any power or influence in the State of Colorado.

"I know that the great majority of people in Colorado favor woman suffrage, after practical experience for more than a decade, first, because it is just, fair and decent—to which there is no possible answer—and second, because in the end its influence has been good rather than evil in our political affairs; and even if the second reason did not exist, the first reason would still be sufficient to all right-minded men who are fair and just."

An easy way of distinguishing scarlatina from measles is to draw the back of a finger nail pretty firmly across the eruption. If scarlatina a white line will result and this will remain one or two minutes. No white line will appear if the test be made in a case of measles. It is very necessary to distinguish between these two disorders. A mild case of measles may be treated by domestic means. A case of scarlatina demands the presence of a doctor.

A floor should never be swept in a room where there is a contagious disease patient. It should be washed with a cloth dipped in borax water, so that no dust annoys the patient and no assortment of germs is flung up in the air, to drift out of the windows en route to fresh victims.

WEST OAKLAND CLUB HAS GOOD CARD IN STORE

The card for the West Oakland Athletic Club's next boxing exhibition, which is to be presented to the public on Tuesday evening, March 20, has been completed and shows some attractive looking bouts.

There is to be a double main event and the fighters in each are of sufficient reputation to guarantee some great sport.

One of these is to be between Chris Hampton of the Reliance Club and Jack King of the North Oakland Club. Hampton is a young man whom the fight fans about the bay long have desired to see in action—that is, really in action, for while he has had one go here, he has not been compelled to extend himself or show what he really can do.

OPPONENTS SHY.

Eddie Smith has long been anxious to match him with some one of his weight at one of the Reliance Club boxing nights, but he could find no one who would consent to meet him. Heavyweights, which class Chris belongs to, as he weighs about 180 or 185 pounds, are a scarce article, with the beginners as well as with the topnotchers, and what few there are hereabouts have steadfastly refused to go on with the Reliance Club's star.

Eddie Smith had his protege practically matched with Hughes, the Railroad Club boxer who defeated Alexander and others at the West Oakland Club, but the prospective opponent paid a visit to the Reliance Club gymnasium, saw Hampton box and straightway threw up the contract, declaring he would be an outlaw, rather than stay in a regular league and have to meet the big blonde. Just how Manager Duchrau has persuaded King to don the mits with him is not stated.

FAST FOR WEIGHT.

Hampton is not a bit slow for such a big fellow, is as cool and collected as could be wished, has a good punch and has mastered so much of the art of boxing and with such apparent ease, that he is regarded by those who have seen him work as a comer.

His only public appearance here was at the West Oakland Club some time ago when he was pitted against a husky but green looking youth who rejoiced in the attractive name of Jack Frost. Chris did so many things to him and bewildered the lad so with his avalanche of blows that the cruel jesters felt prone to remark that Jack Frost didn't have a chance to get thawed out; that the reception he received was not the cool kind his name might have led him to expect, etc.

Hampton did not have a chance to show what he really could do, as his opponent was frightened almost to death after he had been in the ring a minute or two.

Hampton was scheduled to meet King at another West Oakland bout, but although he seemed to be the personification of health, there was some trouble about his physician's certificate and he was not permitted to go on.

MENSER AND MEJI.

The other main event is to be between Eddie Menser and Frank Meji, who were scheduled to go on at the last show, but failed to do so, as Menser had injured his thumb. Menser has offered to wager $100 as a result of an accusation that he was afraid to meet Meji last month, but up to date the latter has not responded to the offer.

Menser is about as clever a lad as there is fighting around these parts, and if Meji can take his measure he will be entitled to as much credit as can be bestowed on him.

The balance of the card, which contains some likely looking material, will be as follows:

Young Herrera, Fruitvale, versus Jerry Ward, West Oakland Athletic Club, 118 pounds; Benny Springer, Central Athletic Club, versus Young Nelson, W. O. A. C., 118 pounds; Frank Slavin, Milwaukee, versus J. Konkel, San Francisco, 145 pounds; Bert Fellows, W. O. A. C., versus Kid Emil, Lyric Club, 118 pounds.

"I CAN LICK O'BRIEN," SAYS THE MAN WHO FLOORED HIM

NEW YORK, March 12.—"I can lick O'Brien and will do it if he ever gives me a chance at him in the ring," said Fred Cooley, former sparring partner of Jack O'Brien, who was dismissed for knocking O'Brien down. Continuing, he said:

"I got on to all the tricks O'Brien has and if I ever got a match with him he will find out he has not an old man to deal with like Fitzsimmons was. Jack is a wise boy, though, as can be seen by his wanting to take on Palmer, the third-rate English fighter, in preference to Ryan and a few other. Palmer and O'Brien wouldn't draw dies in this country."

"I intend to do some fighting on my own hook and hope eventually to qualify for a match with O'Brien. I grew tired of being made to look foolish by O'Brien, who kept rapping me on the nose, which was very sore, and I warned him that I would fight back."

O'Brien had told Cooley he would be in and walloped him as he liked, with the result that O'Brien was sent to the floor and Cooley lost a good position.

The last knockdown was the third time the champion had been floored by Cooley, and the third time proved fatal to the nimble-minded sparring partner. It was only a few weeks ago that one of the knockdowns occurred, when O'Brien gave as an excuse the fact that he was watching one of the comedians on the stage and did not watch his sparring partner.

A hard right on the jaw did the trick this time and O'Brien was all but knocked out.

Cooley joined O'Brien at Cleveland and started a sparring match called for ten weeks with the champion. Fred received a check for his full ten weeks' pay, although he had over four weeks of his contract to fulfill.

MCREDIE BELIEVES HE WILL HAVE SMITH IN LINE

PORLAND, March 12.—Those of the Beavers who were in Portland left for Seattle, accompanied by Manager Walter McCredie. Transportation to Stockton has been sent to the players not here or on the way. McCredie's companions Saturday night were Bert Jones, Charlie and Howard.

McCredie's line-up just before training starts, it will thus be seen, is not as strong as the enthusiastic Beavers fan would like. Bert Jones, Charlie and Howard, Moore, Ben Henderson, Gilispie, Moore and Clarence Howard. Merkle is a Texas leaguer, little known here. Jones was a high school pitcher last year, and Merkle, Howard and Charles are youngsters. Henderson and Torren are perhaps all right. As there is little hope of getting Essick and Garvin, however, about Smith and Garvin, who have not yet signed, McCredie's infield will be his stronghold; be considered weak.

SHARKEY PICKS M'GOVERN TO WIN FROM NELSON

NEW YORK, March 12.—Burly Tom Sharkey, ex-sailor and erstwhile heavyweight pugilist, drove up Jerome avenue recently and paid a visit to Terry Mc'Govern at Johnson's roadhouse.

Sharkey spent several hours with the little lighter who, on March 14, will face the terrible Battling Nelson in the ring. Sharkey said to Charley Mayhood, Terry's trainer: "I have seen Terry train for all his bouts, and I will say right now, and silver my calf, if it isn't the truth, that Terry is looking stronger and more of a fighter than ever before. I'm no prophet if he don't go at the Battler in the same old way that won him the championship. Good luck to him."

BATTLING NELSON, WHOSE FIGHT WITH TERRY M'GOVERN AT PHILADELPHIA WEDNESDAY NIGHT HAS AROUSED THE SPORTING WORLD.

TERRY AND THE BATTLER PREPARE FOR THEIR FIGHT

NEW YORK, March 12.—Two days from this date, Battling Nelson, the champion lightweight, and Terry McGovern, the ex-champion, will meet in a six-round bout before the National Athletic Club of Philadelphia. These two little athletes are the best fighters of their weight. Neither have much claim to cleverness, but whenever they enter the ring the only thought in the mind of each is to whip his opponent as quickly as possible, and not waste time in sparring.

Both have the haymaker blow in either hand, and in most of the fights that they have taken part in this knockout blow was the one that ended the battle. Nelson started to prepare for the coming fight at Huntington, W. Va., and then moved his quarters to Essington, a suburb of Philadelphia. He is being taken care of by his manager, Billy Nolan, Eddie Kelly, his regular sparring partner, assisted by the Battler's old time trainer, Johnny Loftus, is helping the Battler in his work. Nelson's routine is as follows: Get up at 7 o'clock, take a stroll before breakfast; go to camp through the roads at 10 o'clock. In the afternoon, he either goes horseback riding, or takes a drive. He does not do very much boxing, as he claims that he has done enough in his twenty-five weeks of theatrical exhibitions.

LIVES OUT-DOOR LIFE.

The Battler is very fond of outdoor life, and spends practically all of his time in the open air.

McGovern is up at his old training quarters on Juniper avenue, where he is being looked after by his manager, Joe Humphreys, Charley Mayhood, his old-time sparring partner, assisted by John Murphy and Harry Harris, the clever featherweight, are aiding Terry in his work. Like the Dane, Terry is fond of the air, and spends a good part of his time outdoors.

McGovern's program consists of plenty of walking during the morning hours and in the afternoon, he either plays handball or spars three or four rounds with one of his partners.

Terry is carefully avoiding anything in the nature of heavy-work or rough contests while sparring. He has the greatest dread of going stale before the curtain.

The Battler is confident that he will defeat Terry, and on the other hand, the Brooklyn boy is sure that he will overcome Nelson. The sporting public are figuring on a fast and furious battle. The Battler will naturally be made the favorite, but will be held at a short price. McGovern's friends are confident that he has recovered his old form, and are not slow in backing their opinion.

CHASE MADE A UNIQUE RECORD

NEW YORK, March 12.—Hal Chase made a record last year that never was made by a young player in his first season in a big league," said Manager Griffith of the New York Americans yesterday. "He went through the season without once missing a signal. That is something remarkable for a man in his first experience in fast company. When Chase reported to us in the spring I showed him what signals we were using for our plays, and he did not have to be told again. He always was watching for the signals and always did his part in pulling off the play that was signalled for. He runs the bases with his head on a pivot—he has his head turned or in position to see what is coming off. I saw him fooled only once in judging what a hit was good for, and that was in Chicago. He was thrown out at third trying to stretch a hit, and wouldn't have been caught then but for a good relay by George Davis.

Chase comes to time; if not, there will be an unpleasant vacancy there, which would be only moderate with McCredie himself in right. Donahue and McLean are satisfactory as catchers, but with the pitching staff not strong, the fans would like to see some addition. An experienced team front which Portland is hoping so much will get off on the wrong foot and perhaps become demoralized.

These pitchers, so far as McCredie is concerned, are Bert Jones, Charlie and Howard. Merkle, Toren, Ben Henderson, Gilispie, Moore and Clarence Howard. Merkle is a Texas leaguer, little known here. Jones was a high school pitcher last year, and Merkle, Howard and Charles are youngsters. Henderson and Toren are perhaps all right. As there is little hope of getting Essick and Garvin, who have not yet signed, McCredie's staff may be considered weak.

OLD-TIMER TO RE-ENTER RING

CINCINNATI, O., March 12.—"Dever Ed" Smith, at one time one of the most famous heavyweight boxers in the world, but who is now running a cafe and boxing school in this city, evidently does not believe in the theory of Dr. Osler.

"Dever Ed" made the announcement today that he is going to re-enter the ring after quite a number of years of retirement, and is willing to meet any heavyweight in the world. For his first bout he would like to take on Tommy Burns, who recently defeated Marvin Hart. Smith says he is earnest about it and believes he can yet become a champion.

Frank Hawley, once one of the Giants, will manage the La Crosse (Wis.) team next season.

MARVIN HART THINKS OF EXCUSE

LOS ANGELES, March 12.—Marvin Hart, his blundering feet once more crushing the blue grass and green mint of his native State, has thought out an excuse.

That's the worst thing about a fighter. Give him a few days and he will be able to explain anything. A knockout becomes a chance blow delivered by a man already dead on his feet; a decision on points is always a steal. Marvin says that they handed him something in Los Angeles. He explained that he had been the victim of a four-handicap conspiracy. His only mistake, in putting it in the plural, was that he was the only man on the job and that was Noah Brusso, better known as Tommy Burns, and it ever a pivot—had his head turned or in position to see what is coming off. I saw him fooled only once in judging what a hit was good for, and that was in Chicago. He was thrown out at third trying to stretch a hit, and wouldn't have been caught then but for a good relay by George Davis.

If Kentucky will stand for such a raw talk, the land of the mint julep and the long-enduring tead will stand for anything. Why, Marvin is just liable to rip those Kentucky farmers up to such an extent that it will not be safe for Tommy Burns to come within a mile of that boundary line. Marvin told them that Burns treated him right, mean, sub, right and wrong. He said that the referee would not let him hit Burns in the clinches. The main trouble with Marvin was that in the clinches or out he could not hit the other fellow with a bucket of birdshot.

Well, Marvin, Kentucky is a long way off and you are safe as long as you stay there. You may be the champion of Bouchet, but for pity sake never leave home again. First thing you know some welterweight will coax you into the ring and hurt your feelings.

WALDSTEIN IS WINNER AT PIEDMONT

The spectators at the Piedmont Skating Rink Saturday night saw an exciting race for a $100 wager between Arthur Waldstein and Frank Miller.

Waldstein won, but by a margin of only three feet and that after a desperate struggle.

The race was for one mile, or the fifteen laps required by the rink, and it was nip and tuck from start to finish. Waldstein apparently had slightly more staying power, however, and when he crossed the line he could spur Miller across the line in the lead by the aforesaid narrow margin. The time was 2:10.

Harley Davidson, the champion racer and fancy skater, is to appear to-night and all week at the Piedmont Rink, including Thursday night, when the big masquerade carnival is to take place.

REIDY HAS AT LAST SIGNED WITH THE OAKLAND TEAM

CLEVELAND, O., MARCH 12.—BILLY REIDY, THE CLEVELAND BOY WHO WAS SOLD TO THE OAKLAND TEAM OF THE PACIFIC COAST LEAGUE BY THE INDIANAPOLIS CLUB, DECLARED THAT UNLESS HE BE GIVEN THE SAME SALARY HE RECEIVED FROM THE HOOSIER MANAGEMENT HE WOULD QUIT BASEBALL.

"I GOT $2100 A YEAR FROM INDIANAPOLIS," HE SAID, "AND I WON'T PLAY IN OAKLAND FOR $1750. I HAVE A CHANCE TO GO INTO THE SALOON BUSINESS IN CLEVELAND, AND I WILL TAKE ADVANTAGE OF THE OFFER RATHER THAN PLAY BALL FOR $1750. WHETHER I BECOME A SALOONKEEPER DEPENDS UPON THE OAKLAND CLUB."

MANAGER VAN HALTREN AND PITCHER REIDY HAVE FINALLY COME TO TERMS AND REIDY WAS WIRED HIS TRANSPORTATION THIS MORNING WITH INSTRUCTIONS TO START FROM INDIANAPOLIS TODAY FOR THE COAST. HE REPLIED THAT HE WOULD DO SO.

IT IS SAID THAT OAKLAND INCREASED ITS FIRST OFFER TO REIDY. "TIP" O'NEIL SAYS THE TWIRLER IS THE BEST IN THE SECTION WHENCE HE COMES AND WELL WORTH WHAT HE COSTS.

THE DIRECTORS OF THE LOCAL CLUB ARE TO MEET WEDNESDAY EVENING TO CONSIDER THE DISPOSITION OF J. CAL EWING'S STOCK IN THE CLUB. EWING HAS ARRANGED TO PUT PARKE WILSON IN CHARGE OF THE SAN FRANCISCO TEAM.

NOW THEY ACTUALLY TALK SERIOUSLY OF CHAMP BURNS

(BY ROBERT EDGREN)

NEW YORK, March 12.—The astonishing defeat of Marvin Hart by Tommy Burns (Noah Brusso) has complicated the heavyweight situation. Hart's claim to the heavyweight title, of course, was upon the gift of Jeffries and his defeat of Jack Root, a second-rate light-heavyweight. Still, the Kentuckian's size and strength and well known gameness made him seem the likeliest candidate for the honors.

Burns (Brusso) showed that he is a right-handed fighter when he whipped Hart.

In one round he landed the right six times in succession on Hart's face, and without taking a punch in return. But he used a good left in the stomach, too, and that took a lot of steam out of Marvin.

LOST OPPORTUNITY.

Still, it is a safe bet that O'Brien is sorry he did not get Hart first. O'Brien could have turned the trick as well as Burns, and probably better. Hart showed that he has no chance with a clever boxer who will force the fighting and stick to it until the end. "He beat Jack Johnson, who is one clever, big coon, but Johnson's heart flutters when he finds the other fellow wading in against the best he can send over."

O'Brien and Burns would make a good match. They are nearly of the same weight. O'Brien has an advantage in reach. They are both clever, but Burns is a top-layer, while O'Brien fights carefully until he has his man in shape to be knocked out.

FITZ' BLOW IS WORTH $500

"Burns," said Jack, "is a very likely fellow. He is not tall, but he is strong. He has a good head. His face displays high intelligence. He is a rather high nose, a good shoulder and a strong jaw. He is a right-handed fighter. That's the best I have on him, for any man who leads with his right all the time is easy for me. Brusso is very strong, but he does not show any knotted, bunchy muscles. He is loose and quick. I should say he is built very much like Young Corbett at his best, only much bigger. When we fought he was a middleweight, but he is a good fighter."

O'Brien and Burns would make a good match. They are nearly of the same weight. O'Brien has an advantage in reach. They are both clever, but Burns is a top-layer, while O'Brien fights carefully until he has his man in shape to be knocked out.

With this newcomer tied up twenty-five weeks, the only real heavyweight in sight who might dispute the championship claims of O'Brien is Gus Roblin. Gus is an old-timer, but still wills. The Akron ritan is a real heavyweight. He is clever, too, which would make him a dangerous man for Jack to tackle. He has a punch, which he proved by twice knocking out Tom Sharkey.

GRECIAN GAMES AT THE STATE UNIVERSITY

Professor Magee Tells of Conditions for Contests in the Great Amphitheater.

BERKELEY, March 12.—Professor Walter E. Magee, head of the department of physical culture of the University of California, makes the following announcement regarding the Greek games which are to be held at the University of California:

RUNNING-FOOT RACE

The Heleneans esteemed the race before all other forms of exercise. Every gymnasium had a course or track, called the stadium, separated from the rest of the building and surrounded with ranges of seats in the form of an amphitheater. It will be the same here as near as we can duplicate. The course will be covered with sand as in the older days, the distance being what is to render the running more difficult. The course, according to what was called, was 800 feet long, and he who ran once through its extent was called "the runner of the stadium," and he who ran through twice was called "the runner of the double stadium."

Six hundred and six feet (Grecian). To run in heat, no heats. Time only. contestants must make 30 seconds or better in order to secure a place in the events to follow.

Twelve hundred and twelve feet (Grecian). To run in heat, no heats. Time only. contestants must make 70 seconds or better in order to secure a place in the events to follow.

Preliminary contests in the above races

BURIAL FOR UNION MEN ONLY

CHICAGO WORKERS ACQUIRE GROUND FOR EXCLUSIVE CEMETERY.

CHICAGO. March 12.—It soon will be possible in Chicago for union men to die and be buried under "thoroughly union" conditions. The last entry in the Union book of Life is a "Union Cemetery."

Under an impulse given by the joint cigarmakers' unions of the city, the movement took practical shape yesterday, and within a month or two a plot of ground large enough for 5000 graves will have been acquired. The burying ground will be reserved strictly for unionists. No other person may be buried there.

The cigarmakers have appropriated $15,000 from their treasury to carry out the scheme. They do not intend to keep the cemetery for the benefit of members of their own trade only, but will throw open the gates of the burying ground to the other unions of Chicago.

It is expected that the rest of the 750 labor organizations of the city will join heartily in the plan.

WANTS CHURCHES NUMBERED

RABBI SAYS BY DROPPING NAMES STRIFE WOULD CEASE.

NEW YORK, March 12.—Rabbi Joseph Silverman said at a meeting of the New York State Conference of Religion, held last night in the Universalist Church of the Divine Paternity, that he wished all the churches in the city could discard their different names and be numbered like public schools.

Dr. Silverman declared that the great religions, such as Christianity, Buddhism, Mohammedanism and Judaism, were in essence one and the same thing and that the differences were those of nomenclature only.

His reason for suggesting that the churches discard their names was that in this way the people would forget to what denomination they belonged and the interdenominational strife would be eliminated.

THE DISCUS.

The throwing of the discus in America was first introduced about 1896, with the revival of the Olympic games at Athens and the event being won by a member of the American team was the cause of its introduction to the U.S. of athletic games in the United States.

The discus is circular in shape, made of wood, brass and steel. It is eight inches in diameter, about two inches thick at the edges. Its weight is about four and one-half pounds.

The Greek rules are as follows: The athlete stands with the back of a six-foot square, facing the direction in which he is to throw. The discus is held in the right hand with the fingers separated along the rim and resting against the right foot and the thumb with the right arm bent at the elbow. The right arm is swung back at the same time. The right leg and the right arm come forward together with a violent, strong movement used in the finish of the shot. The right leg is straightened and brought forward it must be perfectly straight and the wrist flexed and forward, so that when the discus leaves the fingers it is almost flat and sail through the air in a curve, making a small circle, a clay pigeon shot from a trap. All throws are measured from the point where the discus drops at right angles to the front of the box or if the throw is not made in a straight line, at right angles to the front of the box.

THE JAVELIN.

Position—Stand with the feet about twenty-four inches apart, weight mostly on the right leg, left leg straight and toes of left foot lightly touching the ground, right arm at right angle above the shoulder, and the left arm fully extended, pointing straight forward.

Movement—Quickly and forcibly extend the right arm to a horizontal front and simultaneously straighten the right leg, quickly extend the left arm vertically downward and backward, turn on the ball of the right foot, incline the body

UNIVERSITY MEN WILL HOLD SESSIONS

Conferences of Representative College Men to Be Held During This Week.

BERKELEY, March 12.—The Association of American Universities will hold its seventh annual convention in California this week, the sessions occurring in San Francisco, at the University of California, and at Stanford.

The delegates who are to represent the thirteen universities east of the Rocky mountains which with the University of California and Leland Stanford Junior University, constitute the Association of American Universities, left Chicago Saturday in a special car on the Overland Limited and are now due to arrive in San Francisco on Tuesday, March thirteenth, at 6:48 p.m. to be entertained at luncheon at the Faculty Club, San Francisco, the delegates will make their headquarters at the St. Francis Hotel.

The convention will open on Wednesday with a luncheon given at the Mark Hopkins Institute of Art by the Regents of the University of California and the trustees of Stanford University. On Thursday the delegates will be entertained at luncheon at the Faculty Club, Berkeley, by the Academic Senate of the University of California. After luncheon they will be the guests of the University of California at the third symphony concert to be given in the Greek Theater at 3:30 p.m. by the University Orchestra of sixty-seven professional musicians, with Dr. J. Fred Wolfe, professor of music in the University of California as conductor. On Friday the visitors will spend the day at Stanford.

FIRST CONFERENCE.

This is the first conference of the association held in California. Of the preceding six conferences the first three took place at the University of Chicago and one each at Columbia University, Yale and Johns Hopkins.

The membership of the Association of American Universities is not made up of individuals but of institutions. According to the articles of organization the membership is composed of institutions engaged in graduate or advanced instruction. The real object of the association is the promotion of the university as distinguished from the college by mutual intercourse and co-operation. The association takes no action which is binding on any of its members. It is recognized, however, that the development of the American University is a matter of very recent years and that the discussion of the questions related to the administration and conduct of graduate schools is of the utmost importance to such institutions as are striving to fulfill the ideals of the real university in the fullest sense. It is the ideals rather than the distinct ways and means of accomplishing them that form these subjects of discussion at the meetings, for a certain diversity in putting the real university into operation must naturally exist in different institutions. Such diversity, however, is regarded as essential to the accomplishment of the best results in this country as each institution must enjoy the greatest freedom of action.

CO-OPERATION.

The discussions are printed annually, after adjournment, in a journal of proceedings and addresses and are accessible to all institutions looking forward to the creation of graduate departments. The association is thus co-operating with all other similar institutions in the country by presenting to them in print extracts and future plans in the administration and conduct of graduate schools. This will do more than anything else to put a national stamp on the American University.

The indirect results of the work of the association have already established its importance. Several foreign countries have announced that students coming from an institution belonging to the Association of American Universities will be received in their own universities on exactly the same footing as their own native students. Thus, a student having completed several semesters at the leading American University may, for instance, elect to continue his work in the University of Berlin without loss of time or any kind of restriction. The great universities of the world may in time represent but a single institution of learning, the student being able freely to change from one to the other, seeking the best that can be offered.

The topics to be discussed at the coming conference are especially pertinent to this national and international co-operation in educational work. At the first session, for instance, on Wednesday, at the Mark Hopkins Institute of Art, President

MERCURY MAKES WRECKS NOT CURES

Thousands who have had their health ruined by Mercury testify that it makes wrecks instead of cures in the treatment of Contagious Blood Poison. While it may mask the disease in the system for awhile, when the treatment is left off the trouble returns with renewed violence, combined with the disastrous effects of this powerful mineral. Mercury, and Potash, which is also a common treatment for Contagious Blood Poison, eat out the lining of the stomach and bowels, produce chronic dyspepsia, cause the teeth to decay, make spongy, tender gums, affect the bones and muscles, and leave its victims complete physical wrecks. Another effect of this treatment is mercurial rheumatism, the worst and most hopeless form of this disease. There is but one certain, reliable antidote for this destructive poison, and that is S. S. S. It is the only medicine that is able to go into the blood and expel the disease permanently. S. S. S. does not touch up anything, but so completely the poison that no signs of it are ever seen. G. S. is made entirely of roots, bark, and berries, and is a strong Contagious Blood Poison, will cure all the effects of any mineral treatment. We offer a reward of $1,000 for proof that S. S. S. contains a particle of mineral of any kind. Book with instructions for self-treatment and any medical advice wished furnished without charge.

DEMANDS BRUTALITY FIGHTING TO WOMEN

Former Mayor Says "Shoot
"White Slave Trade"
If Miners Are Hanged."

Mr. Hennedy said last night that a score of criminals will be acted against him, said to have been ardent with Robert Smalls, the colored man under contract.

"If these two men are hanged," he said, "and any man in this body or any other body is not then willing to stand a gun and fight it, it is clear he is a coward."

It was agreed to send two delegations.
